Keeping cool like Cheech Marin isn't as easy as it looks.

No sweat.

When the summer sun gives us hot times, PacificSD makes cold calls—a countywide collection of America's Finest and frostiest sweet spots—to help you lick the heat (and those pesky munchies) in style.

Can a brain freeze of this magnitude be habit forming? Ask Cheech...

OUT-COLD

 WHAT A MESS!

Slices may be the name of the game at Sammy's Woodfired Pizza, but their aptly-named Messy Sundae is legendary. Served in a 22-ounce glass, the confection is a decadent eruption of caramel and chocolate syrups. The sticky-sweet, walnut-studded behemoth's been on the menu since Sammy's opened its first location in 1989.
